

Debate without Hate!

Class 310 011021

Our children have been subjected to improper debating for too long. Some now believe that being rude, loud, and interruptive is the appropriate and expected way to win an argument. In this class your children learn to argue intelligently, not emotionally. They learn how to identify and react to "bully" tactics. They will practice offensive and defensive debating. They will work as individuals and as part of a team, taking turns in every role of the debating process.

The skills that they learn in these sessions will help them express their ideas and feelings and better prepare them for what the future has in store for them.

The Master Happiness methodology is all about "Learning while Laughing." Students will have fun but will be expected to actively participate in order to get the absolute most out of these sessions. Lessons are a combination of lecture, impromptu presentations, games, and some homework that may include research and writing.

This course is broken down into 8 - 1 hour classes. And like all educational presentations taught by Master Happiness, these sessions adjust to fit the individual needs of the class.

Debate without Hate!

Calm under Pressure - As kind and polite as we encourage our children to be, they will eventually run into those who argue with aggression. Dealing with abusive adversaries is a lesson that we concentrate on throughout this class.

Hearing and Listening - Students will be introduced to hearing the intent of words and phrases as opposed to their literal meanings. How precise words are used to evoke specific emotions that can sway an audience.

Claims of the Why - Long before the argument is written, the exact goal must be determined based on the audience's feelings and expectations.

The Expert - These students will learn how to establish credibility through confident delivery, quotes, and testimonials.

The Storyteller - Through the art of emotional storytelling, your children will be able to grab their listeners by the heart in order to win them over.

The Auditor - One of the most important parts of debate is not only finding holes in your competitors argument, but knowing how to present their flaws in a RESPECTFUL manner.

The Salesman - After gathering pertinent evidence and information, from research and listening, these students will learn how to create a compelling closing summation in order to solidify their argument.

If you are looking to help your children become confident speakers, able to argue the ideas important to them...sign them up for this class.

Sessions will consist of almost 100% debate practice and analysis.

This class is designed to prepare your kids for advanced debate classes, sales strategies, and negotiation skills.
